STORAGE OF GRAIN IS INCREASING

STORAGE FACILITIES BENEFICIAL TO FARMERS

Grain storage under the subsidy plan of the Department of Agriculture has made an impressive inauguration in Milam County this year with a total of 7,982 bushels of sorghum grain and corn produced in Milam Co. at the Graham Grain Storage Warehouse, it was disclosed by Alva E. Sanders, director of the Production and Marketing Administration.

Mr. Sanders said the grain was stored in the large warehouse recently constructed by Gillis Graham and is operating under the Commodity Credit Corporation which recognizes this method of handling grain, beneficial to farmers.

The storage plan is designed to solve the problem of handling grain on which loans are made and prevents losses usually taken by farmers who do not have adequate storage facilities on their farms. This has been a problem for Milam County farmers for a number of years as farmers have gone in for grain production in th epast several years.

Mr. Graham has a considerable amount of grain from other counties and a large shipment is due here this week from the western area of the state and has adequate storage facilities at the main warehouse which has a storage capacity of 180,000 bushels of grain and also has 10 storage bins constructed of metal in reserve for use in case of an overflow from the main warehouse.

Mr. Graham in operating this warehouse in connection with other warehouses he has built in the past few months, will realize on his investment through a very low storage charge. A farmer can take his grain to the warehouse, get his storage receipt, then obtain his loan papers from the PMA Office and the bank will advance him the loan price.

Mr. Sanders encourages farmers to use this storage system as it is revolutionizing grain profits because it guarantees against waste on the farm and has the benefit of a floor price placed under the market by the Federal Government to guarantee profitable growing of grains in this county where such crops have been main factors in farm income.

During 1949 under the Farm Storage Plan around 5,600 of sorghum grain, 4,468 of corn, 30 tons of cotton seeds and 34,000 bushels of oats were stored on farms in the county. Some of this amount was lost in various different ways which would have been saved if placed in a storage warehouse. Many farmers were anxious this year to take advantage of these storage facilities.

A number of farmers have stated their appreciation for the service offered here by Mr. Graham in the construction of these storage facilities and how beneficial it has been since there is no waste of grain as well as the low storage cost.

1951 FORD SHOWING AT HEFLEY-STEDMAN

The new 1951 Ford passenger cars, featuring new power combinations, Automatic Ride Control, and many refinements in styling, engineering, comfort and safety will be placed on display tomorrow (Friday, November 24, in the showroom of Hefley-Stedman Motor Co. it was announced today by Mr. Stedman. Mr. Stedman said the new Fords offer a choice of six power combinations—Ford's new fully automatic transmission, the Ford overdrive and the standard 3 speed transmission, all available either with the 100 H. P. V-8 or the advanced 95 H. P. Six engines. There are 16 models in the 1951 line.

The new automatic transmission is called "Fordomatic Drive." The result of more than 4 years of research, it is the combination of a hydraulic torque converter and an automatic planetary gear transmission which operate together for maximum performance and efficiency and smooth flow of power.

Another outstanding feature of the 1951 car is the new Automatic Ride Control made possible by a combination of advanced type shock absorbers and a new type of spring suspension which combine to compensate for all types of road surfaces.

The new cars also offer the widest range of body colors and upholstery and interior trim combinations in Ford car history.

Many front and rear end appearance changes have been made, including adoption of a "dual spinner" radiator grille for a lower and massive effect, larger and stronger wrap-around bumpers.

Rear deck lids have concealed counter-balancing hinges and a new key release latch for ease in opening and keeping the lids raised for loading or unloading the luggage compartment.

The chasis frame has been strengthened and a number of important changes were made. Both V-8 and Six engines now have autothermic control pistons whose top rings are chrome-plated to prevent scuffing of cylinder walls. All engines now have new water-proof ignition systems and rotating valves.

TEXAS TO FURNISH 2,037 IN JANUARY CALL

AUSTIN, Nov. 16—State Selective Service headquarters announced today that Texas has been called upon to furnish 2,037 men for induction into the armed forces in January.

Lieut.-Col. Morris S. Schwartz, deputy State draft director, said the call was received from national headquarters, but that local board quotas will not be made up until early in December.

The January call for 2,037 men compared with 2,008 called for December and pushes the total number of Texans called for since the beginning of the Korean war to 12,525.

The Texas January quota is part of the national call for 40,000 announced this week in Washington.

Schwartz said Texas is "in good shape to supply men to fill the January quota."

The State's quota for November now being filled, is the highest received so far, calling for 3,453 men.

ATTENDANCE RECORD BEING AUDITED HERE

School attendance in the Cameron Public Schools is becoming an important factor in the school system today and unless a good attendance is maintained schools funds will be cut.

Bill Carter, representing the Texas Education Agency, has been in Cameron for th epast two days auditing the attendance records at the Cameron Public Schools, it was announced by Superintendent W. T. Hanes.

Mr. Carter is here in accordance with provisions set up under the Gilmer-Aikin Law and the amount of Money the school receives under the law as well as the number of teachers a school is allotted depends solely upon how many students are enrolled in public schools, and their attendance throughout the school year.

Mr. Hanes said that parents should see to it that their children are in school unless they are sick as this is the only legitimate reason for children not attending their classes and the schools will be penalized if our attendance records does not show a good percentage of attendance.

The importance of education should be stressed by parents and since the legislature has appropriated a large amount of tax money for the Gilmer-Aiken system, they will enforce all provisions under the law, if attendance at public schools does not coresspond with the amount of money allotted under the Gilmer-Aiken School System, funds for operating schools will be cut.

The Cameron Public Schools are allotted around $80,000 a year and everything possible should be done to keep the attendance as near the 100 per cent mark as this means better school facilities for children and with the crowded situation in the Cameron schools today, a cut in appropriations would be detrimental to our Public Schools. The number of teachers that can be employed to teach in public schools depends upon enrollment and attendance records. Students who do not attend classes each day are not receiving the education offered them and are not taking advantage of provisions under the new school system.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kuhn of Humble, Kansas and sons, Calvin Kuhn and Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Russell and Cherrie were week end guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Peed. Mrs. Russell is the former Esther Peed.

FIGHT AGAINST TB DEPENDS ON SEAL SALE

The 1950 Christmas Seal Sale officially opened Monday, November 20 when sheets of the seals in their morning mail.

The closing date of this sale is December 25 and the proceds from this sale will be used to finance the work of the Milam County Tuberculosis Association in the fight against TB.

It takes only a moment to write a check or slip some bills in an envelope.

Some neglect to take that moment to acknowledge Christmas seals when they were received last November. It is easy to put something like this aside during the busy, pre-Christmas days. But it is not too late to take a moment off to make a return for the Seals.

Funds realized from the sale of Christmas Seals are the sole financial support of the association in its work to bring tuberculosis under complete control in our community. The activities of the association include such worthwhile projects as case-finding and health education.

Continuation of these activities may make the difference between life and death to some residents. Surely all want to support the work of the tuberculosis association. It will take but a moment to acknowledge our Christmas Seals.

The costliness of tuberculosis lies in the fact that it is achronic,long-term, communicable disease. These characteristics explain both the financial burden and the physical and emotional suffering it causes.

TB has a slow onset, thus too frequently it is not recognized and diagnosed until it has a firm hold on its victim. Recovery is then a slow process. During the period when the patient is under treatment, he is deprived of normal family life, of earning a livelihood, of following a chosen vocation.

For the sake of financial and human resources, it is obviously sound economy to prevent TB. And each can help bring this costly disease under control by supporting the campaign against TB in the community. There is an oportunity today to show faith in the eradication of TB in a very tangible way. Buy Christmas Seals, sole support of the Texas Tuberculosis Association and its affiliated county associations in the year round campaign against the "white plague."

Through Christmas Seals, we can cut down the tribute to TB.

Protection Of Farm Machinery Advised

Winter weather has arived in Texas. The last "blue norther" settled that question. The rapid changes that can be expected in the weather during the next few months can be taken in stride and without disrupting the farm chores and operations if farm machinery is correctly winterized now, reports J. D. Moore, Milam Co. Agent.

The radiators on all motors that require liquid for cooling should be drained and filled with a good anti-freeze. A cracked block, cylinder head orradiator on the tractor, truck or pickup is not only an expensive way to find outhow cold it is on the outside, but delays caused from having the equipment laid-up in the garage may be even more expensive than the actual repair job, said Moore.

Before filling radiators with anti-freeze, be sure they are clean. Check hose connections. If damaged, replace it. Most anti-freeze, continues Moore, will leak through holes that do not show up when water is used. Use enough of the anti freeze to give the motor all the protection it will need even in the coldest wether. Check the strength of the solution so that unusually cold weather will not catch you with a weak solution in the radiators of your machines.

Check thermostats in all engines to make sure they are working correctly. No liquid-cooled engine can perform properly unless it runs at the proper temperature.

Never start a motor in a tight building until you have opened a door or window or have provided for ventilation. Escaping carbon monoxide gas can easily cause death.

Transmissions and differentials on farm machines should be drained, flushed and refilled with the correct weight lubricant. A light weight motor oil should be used in the motors because the heavier oils and lubricants do not flow freely during cold weather and bearings and gears may be damaged before the lubricants warm up enough to flow freely.

It is good, cheap insurance, concluded Moore, to winterize all farm equipment that may be damaged from cold weather. Weather reports may give warning, but it is up to each individual to see that his equipment is protected from the elements.

Insect Damage Heavy Throughout Texas

Insect damage to the 1950 cotton crop in Texas amounted to approximately $107,035,000, destroying 11 per cent of the total harvest, according to an unofficial preliminary estimate compiled by the National Cotton Council, George G. Chance, chairman of the Texas unit of the Council.

"Insects kept approximately 456,000 bales of cotton and an estimated 187,000 tons of cotonseed off he market this year. Based on average prices, this lint would have brought Texas farmers some $91,119,000 and the seed would have meant an additional profit of $15,916,000." the Council spokesman said.

"Throughout the Cotton belt," Mr. Chance said, "an estimated 16.5 per cent of the crop, valued at approximately $598,565,000 was destroyed. In dollars and cents, loses in 1950 were second highest on record, exceeded only by 1949 when damage amounted to more than $617 million."

BUICK EIGHT
ONLY BUICK HAS Dynaflow AND WITH IT GOES:
HIGHER-COMPRESSION Fireball valve-in-head power in three engines. (New F-263 engine in SUPER models.) • NEW-PATTERN STYLING, with MULTI-GUARD forefront, taper-through fenders, "double bubble" taillights • WIDE-ANGLE VISIBILITY, close-up road view both forward and back • TRAFFIC-HANDY SIZE, less over-all length for easier parking and garaging, short turning radius • EXTRA-WIDE SEATS cradled between the axles • SOFT BUICK RIDE, from all coil-springing, Safety-Ride rims, low-pressure tires, ride-steadying torque-tube • WIDE ARRAY OF MODELS with Body by Fisher.

It would be easy to let the breath-taking power, the luxurious ride and the gleaming good looks of a Buick sweep you off your feet.

And once you've sampled the sweet response of Dynaflow Drive*—you feel a big lack in anything else.

But let's be practical about all this.

What does it cost to buy—and to own—this star performer?

The first answer is a look at delivered prices—and most people still are surprised to find that a car which offers so much actually costs so little.

That's true, whether you put the SPECIAL, the SUPER or the superb ROADMASTER against other cars of comparable dimensions. They certainly shine on a first-cost basis.

But this is only half the story, as you'll soon find out on any used-car lot.

Year in, year out, the resale prices of Buicks stay much closer to first cost than the prices of cars with lesser merit.

And among recent models, Buicks with Dynaflow Drive command such a premium that you can almost figure you get this dream drive for free.

So why not let yourself go? Why not walk right into your Buick dealer's now and say, put me down for one of those!

There's no time like the present for showing your good judgment.

*Standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on SUPER and SPECIAL models.

Appeal Made For Early Christmas Mailing

Postmaster John R. Hays issued his annual appeal today for correct addressing and early mailing of Christmas greetings and gifts.

The Postmaster predicted that this year's flood of Christmas mail will break 1949's high, when a record 199.-330 pieces of holiday mail were cancelled locally.

"Handling this huge volume of Christmas mail will tax past office facilities to the limit" he stated. "But we will get everything delivered by Christmas if we receive the full cooperation of the public."

Christmas packages for distant points should be mailed by December 2, the Pastmaster advised. Christmas gifts for nearby points should be at the parcel post windows by December 9 .

Christmas cards destined for out-of-state should be deposited by December 15, and cards for local delivery atleast a week before the holiday.

"Please don't hold up your mailings until these dates, however," the Postmaster pleaded. Mail packages, especially, as soon as you have them ready."

To meet the peak Yuletide rush, the post office has already begun training extra mail clerks and carriers ,setting up new sorting tables, providing reserve mail sacks ,and overhauling delivery trucks. Even the post office pens are getting new points.

The Postmaster urged the purchase of three-cent stamps for mailing greetings first class. Cards may then be sealed contain written miessages, and can be forwarded or returned without additional charge.

17TH REGIMENT FIRST AT YALU RIVER LINE

WITH 7TH DIVISION, In Korea, Tuesday, Nov. 21— United States troops reached the Manchurian border Tuesday.

The 17th Regimental Combat Team of the 7th Division became the first American force to fight its way to the Yalu River boundary.

The tank-led force, under command of Col. Herbert B. Powell, reached the border in the vicinity of Hyestnjin.

A 10th Corps spokesman said the spearhead reached within two miles of the frontier city of Hyesanjin by late afternoon against light resistance which dwindled away to "practically none."

Elsewhere on the frigid battlefront Monday, South Korean forces advanced six miles in the northeast and up to three miles in the northwest. U. S. Marines plodded warily along both the eastern and western rims of icy Changjin reservoir, an important link in Korean and Manchurian hydroelectric power networks. The 5th and 7th regiments made no contact with the Reds Monday, a 10th Corps spokesman said.

In the air, Navy Pantherjets fought a six mile high battle with seven to nine Russian-built pets, the Navy reported in Washington. The Communist planes were quickly put to flight across the Manchurian border with two of them trailing smoke.

Hyesanjin straddles the Yalu River —boundary line between Korea and Manchuria. The city, nestled in rugged and mountainous North Korea, has been one of the supply bases through which Chinese Communist troops were funneled into Korea.

The 10th Corps spokesman, however, said the 7th Division encountered only North Korean soldiers in its drive to the border.

Their arrival at the border is expected to give a big phychological boost to U. S. troops after the disappointing pullback of early November on the northwest front.

MEN OF CENTRAL TEXAS PRESBYTERY CONVENE

Dr. W. R .Hall, former Minister at the First Presbyterian Church in Cameron and now Minister at the Fairland Presbyterian Church, makes the following report on the Presbyterian Men's Delegation of Central Texas Presbytery which was held recently.

On Tuesday evening, November 14th Texas Presbytery had a most worthwhile evening together in the First Southern Presbyterian Church, of Austin. The Council met from 6:00 to 7:00 P. M. Then the Fellowship dinner at 7:00 P. M., followed by the inspirational program.

A constitution and by-laws was presented and adopted. There were 107 men present. Before the address of the evening a short period was devoted to group singing; it was a great experience to witness and to participate in Gospel singing under the leadership of an enthusiastic, gifted leader.

Clint Read, an Elder in the First Church in Mexia, was re-elected President of the organization. The next annual meeting of the Mens Organization will be held in early November of 1951, in the elaborate educational building, adjoining the First Presbyterian Church building in Waco.

Rev. James McCrary, pastor of the Wilshire Presbyterian Church, Austin, brought the message of the evening, his esubject "THE GREAT CONFLICT." He called attention to the fact that "the great Cinflict" as we hear often is not Democracy versus Facism, or Democracy versus Communism. His address was an able defense of the position that "The Great Conflict" is a battle to he death here in America of "Secularism Versus Christianity."

He showed how utterly futile is the best that secularism can offer in the inevitable crisis which sweep over human life,—that when and where the need is greatest that the best that Secularism can offer is utterly inadequate. At each point he showed how gloriously sufficient Christianity was to meet the need fully,— "THAT CHRIST IS THE ONLY ANSWER."

His conclusion, therefore, was logical, that the greatest project to which Christian men can devote themselves is the spread of true Christianiy among all mankind. He called attention to the bright omen already visible of the rapidity with which men, high and low, throughout the land, were devoting themselves whole-heartedly to Christianity.

Friends of Joe Jerry Rozner regret to know that he is ill and a patient at Newton Memorial Hospital.

Mrs. G. W. Baskin returned to Houston Sunday with her children where she will be visiting for several weeks.

Seeing is believing

no other range is as fast or as efficient as a modern gas range

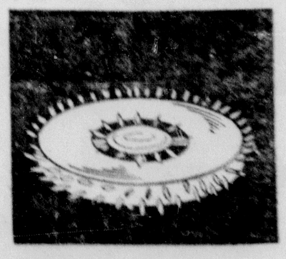
Speed you can see. Bring ½-inch of water to a boil. Add vegetables and cover. Time required—two to three minutes! Turn burner to simmer speed which completes cooking.

With a single oven range, only if it is gas can you bake and broil at the same time. You can bake rolls, potatoes and a casserole dish while you broil meat in the separate broiler.

"Claims" of speed don't mean a thing. But seeing is believing. Here you see why gas is fastest and most efficient—why 96 out of 100 women in this area cook with gas.

If your range has seen its best days, now is a good time to get a modern gas range. They cost less. They operate for less than ¼ the cost of non-flame ranges. Gas burners last a lifetime; don't burn out. No special, expensive utensils are needed. No costly installation charge is added to the purchase price. Buy a modern gas range.



Warm up a gas burner? You don't have to! The second it's on, it's at maximum heat. No other range can be fast as gas. Or as efficient. The flame gives tailored heat—fits itself to any size or shape pan. Less waste heat.

Twice As Much For Texas, Too

BRIDGEPORT, CONN.—This year Thanksgiving comes twice to Texas, bringing with it two holiday meals to keep Lone Star State homemakers twice as busy as usual.

Twice as much turkey is one answer, of course, but it takes a fellow-Texan to solve the menu problem with a much tastier idea. Miss Lura Jim Alkire, who hails from San Antonio and is now manager of the General Electric Consumers Institute, suggests a half turkey for the quiet "just-family" celebration one week and festively-decorated glazed baked ham for a full-scale "gathering of the clan" on the other date.

Half a turkey is better than one when you're cooking for six people or less, the Institute says. Just rub cavity of turkey with salt and outside with shortening, cover with cheesecloth dipped in melted shortening and place cavity side down on a rack in a shallow roasting pan. Roast in a 300°F-325° oven 20 to 25 minutes per pound. When half done, remove turkey and spread a double thickness of wax paper on rack. Place stuffing on paper, cover with turkey, again cavity side down, and return to oven.

The ham, fat side up on rack in shallow pan, is baked in a 325°F oven 10 minutes per pound for a 14-15 pound pre-cooked ham. When done, remove ham from oven and cut off rind. Score ham by making ⅛-inch-deep diagonal cuts to form diamonds. Pour 1¼ cups dark corn syrup over ham and return it to a 425°F oven for 15 minutes.

You can dress up the serving platter (and provide tasty individual fruit salads, too) by surrounding the ham with "peach pumpkins." Each pumpkin is made by fastening two drained peach halves together with toothpicks and filling the center with cottage cheese. Use cloves to simulate pumpkin lines on one side and a citron strip, tinted green with vegetable food coloring, for a stem.

THE NEW S. S. LAW EFFECTIVE JAN. 1

The new social security law, which becomes effective on January 1, extends social security protection to household workers such as maids, laundresses, cooks, chauffeurs and gardners. Any employer of domestic help in or around the house, will need to know what to do about household workers.

James B. Marley, manager of the Austin social security office offers a small booklet explaining how the new law works. For the convenience of housewives these booklets, "Do You Have a Maid" are being supplied to post offices and offices of the Bureau of Internal Revenue.

A simple test in the booklet, in terms of amount of wages paid and regularity of employment, will tell whether a maid or cook or laundress will get the protection of social security—and whether the housewife should mail in for instructions.

Copies of the booklet are available in post offices, or may be secured at offices of the collector of internal revenue. A card or letter to the Austin social security office asking for the booklet, "Do You Have a Maid?" will be promptly answered. Address of the office is 105 Brown Building, Austin.

New Rodent Poison Now Available

Warfarin, a new rat killer released by the University of Wisconsin Research Foundation, appears to be one of the most effective poisons available for the control of rats and mice.

The active ingredient of the new poison is coumarin, a compound found in sweetclover which affects the clotting of blood, says J. E. Poore, assistant district leader for the Rodent Control Service, according to a report by J. D. Moore, Milam County Agent.

Rats that have eaten warfarin baits for several days become less active, develop internal hemorrhages, and slowly bleed to death.

Moore says that one advantage of warfarin over many of the other rat poisons is that it is odorless and tasteless. Rats will continue to eat the bait until they die without detecting the presence of the poison. Another advantage lies in the safety with which it can be used on the farm.

Warmarin is poisonous to all warmblooded animals, but the amount recommended for controlling rats and mice is so small that there is little danger of farm animals or people being poisoned accidently.

Even though warfarin is considered an extremly safe rodent poison, Moore warns that the usual precautions should be taken to prevent accidental poisonings on the farm.

For the poison to be effective, it is necessary for rats to eat warfarin baits over a period of five or more successive days. Grain or cereal type baits, which are not readily eaten by cats and dogs may be mixed with the poison, thus reducing the possible danger of poisoning these farm pets.

Warfarin is now on the market under the trade names of various chemical companies. Moore cautions that the warfarin baits should be mixed according to the manfacturer's instructions.

Mixed bait can be secured in 100 pound lots from the Rodent Control Service at San Antonio. Rodent control service fieldmen, county agricultural agents, and representatives of other public service organizations can order the new poison.

For Power with Economy...it's High Compression!

FOR HIGH COMPRESSION... IT'S THE "ROCKET"!

Ever since Oldsmobile introduced the "Rocket" Engine two years ago, seems like everybody claims "high-compression"—but nobody explains it. The phrase simply means squeezing the gasoline into a smaller space before exploding it. This gets more power out of the same amount of fuel. But the engine must be designed for high-compression all the way through to assure smooth, quiet, gas-saving performance. The "Rocket" is 100% high-compression—from the crankshaft out. And the lowest-priced "Rocket" Engine car is Oldsmobile's "88." Makes good sense to try it soon—doesn't it?

Oldsmobile Hydra-Matic Drive optional at extra cost on all models.

WEATHER SLOWS YANKS: INFANTRY ADVANCES

SEOUL (Friday), Nov. 17—Allied troops scratched out gains up to five miles against spotty Red resistance in a general advance along the sleet-struck fighting front in North Korea Thursday.

The sleet made the going rough for the foot soldiers, and cut down the around-the-clock bombing of Red bases and supply centers. Temperatures rose from previous near zero levels, however.

Chinese and Korean Communists west and north-central sectors. The steam went out of a North Korean pulled back a little more in the north-Red counterattack in the far northeast.

The U. S 1st Corps advanced on a 30-mile front in the northwest against practically no opposition.

On the west end of the line, the Korean Republican 1st Division moved four miles northwest of Pakchon, seven miles north of the Chongchon River.

The British Commonwealth 27th Brigade rolled through Pakchon and pushed about three miles north. British patrols ventured another mile and one-half ahead and found no trace of the enemy.

Chinese and North Korean Red divisions, once reported digging in on high ground west of Pakchon, now were reported to have pulled back 10 miles.

Northeast of Pakchon, the U. S. 24th Division advanced up to a mile and one-half and sent patrols as far as Yongsong. The U. S. 1st Cavalry Division moved almost a mile north of the old walled city of Yongbyon. The two divisions were in an arc along a front 15 miles northeast of Pakchon.

These advances swelled the Allied Chongchon River bridgehead northward and westward.

On the brdgehead's east side the Korean Republic's 2nd Corps struggled back into Tokchon, 25 miles east of Yongbyon, and thereby regained most of the four miles lost to counterattacking Reds earlier in the week.

In snow-covered mountains east of the brdgehead, U. S. 7th Regiment Marines skirmished with outposts of a Red force of unestimated size after a three mile advance west of the Changjin reservoir.

A prisoner said Chinese troops were assembling in large numbers in mountains west of the lake. The entire Chinese 42nd Army, about equal in numbers to two American divisions, may be massed in the area.

Guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Cook last week end were Mrs. Dave McCoy of Rockdale and Mr. and Mrs. Cookie Guthrie of Taylor.

Greir Condray has returned home after working in Anson.

NEW '51 STUDEBAKER MAKES SHOWING HERE

Studebaker's 1951 passenger car models, paced by a new Commander series powered by a rugged, compact, new V-8 engine, are now being displayed by Michalka Motors, local Studebaker dealer.

"The new engine for the Commanders has been designed not only to prepare for any forseable boost in compression ratios, but to utilize the most modern machinery and manufacturing techniques in producing it says Mr. Michalka. "Rated horsepower of the new engine is 120 at 4000 r.p.m., while taxable horsepower is 36.4. Compression ration as released is 7 to 1.

"Although the new engine has 17.6 per cent more power than the 6-Cylinder engine formerly used, tests completed by company engineers definitely show that the 1951 Commander will maintain the outstanding reputation for fuel economy established by preceding Commander models. Moreover, the use of premium gasoline will not be required," Mr. Michalka explains.

Exterior lines of the 1951 Studebakers not only continue the smart, revolutionary styling introduced a year ago, but give the care even greater sleekness as a result of design changes at the front and rear. Principal front-end styling alterations center around the new grille, "spinner," and splash shield which completely encloses the bumper support bars.

"We believe the new models will not only set new standards for beauty, but for safety, performance and riding comfort as well," says Mr. Michalka. "One-piece windshields, for example, which have been used on Studebaker's postwar 5-passenger coupes, convertibles and Land Cruisers, are now standard on all Champions and Commanders.

Changes in the Champion include the adoption of centerpoint steering, a new instrument panel, and steel jacket-enclosed steering column and gear shift lever on all but the Custom models. Other changes include an increase in radiator frontal cooling area of 22 sq. in., and a boost in the generator output from 35 to 40 amperes.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Tindall and son Bobby Lee spent the week end with Mr. Tindall's brother, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Tindall at Cleburne.

YANKS ARRIVAL AT YALU SPLIT REDS

SEOUL, Wednesday, Nov. 22—U. S. 7th Division troops planted the United Nations flag in the icy banks of the Yalu River Tuesday in their unpopposed entry into the Korean-Manchurian border town of Hyesanjin.

After sweeping through the deserted town, a tank-paced column of the 17th Regimental Combat team was ordefensive hill positions above Hyesandered to pull back and dig into good jin.

"Then we'll see what happens" said the 17th commander, Col. Herbert B. Powell.

A 10th Corps spokesman said no sign of activity has been reported across the river in Soviet-dominated Chinese Manchuria.

United Nations forces in other sectors were miles from the border but serious opposition was highted in only one area, the northwest.

On the northwest front heavy con-South Korean troops of the Capital Division stabbed within 15 miles of the big Red port of Chongjin but had to go before reachng the frontier of Soviet Siberia.

On th enorthwest front heavy concentrations of Chinese and North Korean Communists were hard at work building a defense line of fortified high points. This was intended to seal off the 1st Corps and the Republic of Korea 2nd Corps— a total of six divisions from approaching within 50 miles of the big international Suiho Reservoir on the Yalu. The reservoir is one of the man sources of power for Red Manchuria.

United Nations intelligence officers conceded that the outlook is for continuation of the Korean war well into spring, Associated Press Correspondent Stan Swinton reported.

MR. HOGAN IS NEW HEAD OF LEGIONNAIRES

Approximately 170 Legionnaires at the district convention in Temple this week end elected W. P. (Red) Hogan, mayor of Rockdale, district commander.

He fills the unexpired term of Bill Elkins of Killeen, elevated to the state commander's post.

Marlin was selected for next spring's district convention, told Legionnaires, "enactment of a universal training law by Congress without further delay is urgently needed if we are to have the man power framework of modern American defense."

"We also need total mobilization of our armed forces to a full wartime footing," Mr. Elkins said.

"Joseph Stalin," said the state commander, "is counting on our economy bankruptcy. Therefore we must make American dollars become "fighting dolars."

"The sooner we serve notice on Russia that we will not fight any satelite she wants to "sick" on us, but will hold Moscow responsible for any further aggression and use all our strength to destroy the breeding place of world trouble, the better off we'll be."

"It is useless to make threats unless we carry them out, but this is a threat that our survival demands."

"We must build up our strength to make such a threat good."

Mrs. Frank Dink who has been ill and confined to her home is much improved and will return to her work soon at Dink's Second Hand Store.

Farm Officials Discuss 1951 Plans

Farming plans for 1951, particularly cotton farming plans, were discussed at an agricultural agency meeting held at Burkes-Howard company in Cameron on Wednesday, November 15.

The meeting was called by officials of the Extension Service at A & M College. County Agents from 18 counties, representing Extension District 10, were here for the meeting. Others from 18 counties were PMA officials, FHA officials, veteran vocational agriculture teachers and coordinators, and high school vocational agricultural teachers.

A & M officials encouraged those at th emeeting to recommend that farmers follow a well-balanced farming program, to continue legumes and grasses, and to emphasize diversified farming.

Agriculture price trends were discussed by two economists from A & M and they painted a bright future. Prices will eb good due to defense plans, they said.

They recommended that farmers buy their supplies early to offset the lack of railroad facilities. There will be a heavy demand for these supplies at the time they are needed they said, and if all frmers buy them at the same time, there may be such a transportation problem that all farmers may not get them when they are needed.

The program consisted of a talk by Congressman Poage on "Conditions in the far East."

There were a number of members present and the following out of town guests: Earl Massey, Postmaster at Killeen, Judge McDonald of Hillsboro, Bob Nelson, State Field Representative of FFA of Belton, Clois Stone, PMA secretary of Gatesville, Leo J. Williams of Dallas, Charles Blake of Hearne and A. W. Klement of Hearne.

Sharon Jean and Billie Marie, twin daughters of M. D. Swanzy, are ill and will be confined to Newton Memorial Hospital for a few days. Their friends are wishing them a speedy recovery.

PROFITS REALIZED FROM GRADED SYSTEM

Milam County Egg producers who are supporting the graded egg program met in the dining room at the Milam Coffee Shop Wednesday night for their monthly meeting, it was announced by Leo Fuchs.

Frank Stockton, egg speciaiist with the Marketing Extension Department at A & M College, talked on the care of eggs and the proper time to start chicks so as to realize more out of egg production and brought out the advantages of the graded system. He made mention of instituting the 2 flock system a year so that producers will have young pullets the year round on the yard, as more profit will be realized from this kind of a system.

Roland Kaderli, salesman for Purina gave an interesting talk on research being done at the Purina Farm in St. Louis, Mo., and pointed out how egg production can be increased.

Mr. Fuchs said that a total of 29, 169 dozen of eggs or 972 cases had been shipped out of his place of business since the egg grading program began on July 1. Of this amount the farmers have netted $2,450.24 over the current receipt price. This fact alone proves the advantages of the graded system that has been instituted at the Ideal Hatchery and farmers should continue to patronize this system even though egg prices are advancing. During the summer and Spring when eggs are plentiful the graded system continues to maintain a good price on eggs when other markets have a surplus at a lower price level.

During the year the current receipt price has been around 32c per dozen and the average graded system price has been 40.9 per dozen which shows a difference of $2.50 a case profit by selling on the graded market system.

Mr. Fuchs continues to encourage the producers to take advantage of the graded system and patronize it the year around as beter prices on eggs will be maintained and profit and benificial results will be obtained.

Bassell Wilson, owner and operator of the Wilson Produce, said early this morning that during the past six months his firm has shipped out around 6,000 cases of No. 1 grade A eggs produced in Milam County.

Mr. Wilson said that the majority of these eggs were sent to hospitals in Waco, Temple, McKinney, Dallas, Kerrville, New Orleans, Alexandria, La., and Fort Hood. He said his firm started a government grading program some three years ago and all eggs shipped out must be government inspected.

TANK LED SPEARHEADS IN SIGHT OF MANCHURIA

SEOUL (Monday), Nov. 20— Tank-led United Nations spearheads rumbled over tortuous mountain roads within sight of th esnow-covered Koren-Manchuria border Monday as fighting flared on the long-dormant northwest front and behind the front lines.

Tanks of the U. S. 7th Infantry Division crunched over the snow and ice on roads so narrow the column occasionally had to be halted while ledges were widened by blasting.

Last confirmed position of the tanks was eight miles north of captured Kapsan at 3:30 p. m. Sunday, only a few hours after the armored American column overran North Korean Communists in the bomb-blasted town, taking 60 prisoners.

The advance brought United Nations forces only 14 miles from the Yalu River border, approximately the same distance from their goal as the U. S. 24th reached before their forced withdrawal last month.

The new frontier march, however, was approximately 100 miles north and more than 200 miles to the east of last month's abortive drive which was frustrated by Chinese counterattacks in force.

At their last-reported rate of speed the Americans would reach the Yalu in the vicinity of the frontier town of Hyesanjin sometime Monday or Tuesday. Hyesanjin is directly across from Manchuria's Changpai in a deep bend of the Yalu.

United Nations forces on the northwest front meanwhile met stiffening enemy resistance for the first time in a week.

Patrols of the U. S. 1st Cavalry Division pushed about a mile past their outpost lines north of Kunuri and were firced to withdray after a fire fight with Chinese Communist troops.

To the west British patrols, spearheaded by American tanks, advanced four miles north of Pakchon on the road to Taechon. A fire fight with small arms and automatic weapons ensued against what a spokesman said was "quite a few" enemy troops.

North Korean civilians told United Nations interrogators two large groups of Chinese soldiers had withdrawn to the north with several American prisoners. They said North Korean soldiers had routed them out of their homes, which were then booby-trapped.

Later in the day U. S. fighter planes were directed against several well-camouflaged vehicles in a mountain pass four miles south of Taechon— approximately 19 miles north of the Chongchon River.

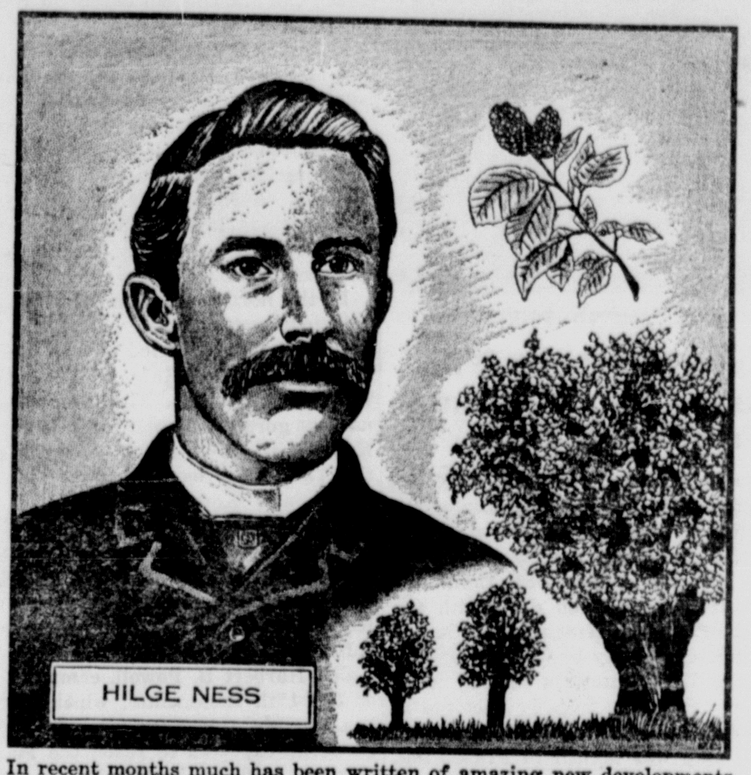
Our first state college—Texas A. and M. is now in its seventy-fifth year



In recent months much has been written of amazing new developments in the forestry field through the breeding of hybrid trees, producing a fast-growing, vigorous new tree in much the same manner as scientists have produced hybrid corns and other valuable new plants. Success in this field would revolutionize forestry practices. Thirty years ago a little-known Texas scientist working on the A. and M. campus produced hybrid oak trees which are campus landmarks today. This pioneering opened up an entirely new field which is now coming to the attention of the world. Hilge Ness, who produced hybrid oaks by crossing the overcup oak and the liveoak, was chief botanist of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station and professor of Botany at the college for many years. He joined the staff in 1889, after graduating from Texas A. and M., and served until his death in 1928. A distinguished scientist, he had great influence as a teacher and researcher, and made valuable contributions to Texas agriculture through the production of many useful new plants, one of which was the Nessberry, a cross between the dewberry and raspberry, which still bears his name.

"WHAT D'YA MEAN... MORE PAYLOAD?"

DODGE "Job-Rated" trucks GIVE IT TO YOU!

IT'S A MATTER OF better weight distribution

You can haul more payload than ever in a Dodge "Job-Rated" truck, because the load is better distributed. Most trucks carry too much of the load on the rear axle—too little on the front. Because the engine of a Dodge "Job-Rated" truck is moved forward and the front axle back, both axles carry the right proportion of the load. That means you can haul bigger payloads without overloading.

NOT THIS The payload on most trucks—like the girl in this boat—rides too far to the rear. Result: there's too much weight aft, not enough forward.

BUT THIS In "Job-Rated" trucks, the load is moved forward—as the girl is now positioned. Results: proper weight distribution—bigger payloads—easier handling.

"Job-Rated" ...for low-cost transportation

POWER: . . . 8 great truck engines—each "Job-Rated" for PLUS power.

ECONOMY: . . . priced with the lowest. "Job-Rated" for dependability and long life.

Milam Farmers Want Continued Support Prices

At a meeting of the Directors and officers of the Milam County Farm Bureau Thursday night, a resolution was approved and will be submitted to the State Farm Bureau Convention to be held in Mineral Wells on November 20, 21 and 22.

The resolution stated that the farmers of the county desire a better soil conservation program, continuance of the tax refund on gasoline for non highway usage.

The bureau favors price support prices on products produced in this county and desires a better understanding on labor for harvesting their crops, better farm to market roads and a new cotton grading system.

Other problems were discussed before the meeting closed.

ENTRIES CALLED FOR

will be given score sheets with only the number of the contestant. The judges will not know the name of the contestant. They will judge each arrangement by a score of 30% for originality, 20% for lighting effect, 30% for arrangement and 20% for color. The date of the judging has not been decided, but will be announced later. Each entry, however, must be completed not later than December 15th and must be entered, officially, in the contest by that date. Each contestant may enter the contest by calling Miss Mildred Thornton at 447 or 374.

There are no restrictions on entering the contest. That is, anyone within the City Limits and anyone outside the City Limits, but within Cameron proper, may enter the contest. The amount of money you spend on your decorations will not necessarily have a bearing on your chances to win. Many kinds of materials and arrangements may be used with little expense, but with a great deal of effectiveness.

A club may enter the contest by selecting the home of one of its members and decorating it. They may then contact Miss Thornton and enter the name of their club, giving the address of the house they are decorating. This would be a good way for a club to earn a litle extra money for their treasury, and just think of how much they will do towards making Cameron a beautiful place at Christmas.

Let's all give this contest some serious thinking. It is not how much money you may or may not win, but the joy you will have in doing this wonderful thing towards making Cameron a beautiful place at Christmas as well as your home, which will be enjoyed by every citizen of Cameron during the holidays. Let's get to work and make this the best Home Decorating Contest ever. People from miles around will come to Cameron to see your decorations and we'll all be so proud for having the beautiful Christmas spirit in our town.

Mr. Dan Goldsmith, 3024 Curron Road, Louisville, Ky., owner of Coogla Cut Rate Store at 935 West Broadway, says there just aren't enough words in the English language to praise HADACOL correctly. He says he knows most folks don't realize what a change HADACOL can make in their life if their systems are defiicient in Vitamins B¹, B², Iron and Niacin.

Here is Mr. Goldsmith's statement:

"Before I started taking HADACOL I was run down and nervous —and had a hard time sleeping nights. With my work in the store I have to spend sometimes 14 hours a day on my feet. Since I am in the retail business I saw how many folks were asking for HADACOL so I decided to try it myself. After the first couple of bottles I could tell a definite improvement. Now I have all the pep and energy in the world, my nerves are steady as ever and I really do get a good night's rest. HADACOL is wonderful—I not only take it, but recommend it to all my customers. I praise the day Senator Dudley J. LeBlanc put HADACOL on the market."

HADACOL Is So Different

Thousands are benefiting from HADACOL . . . whose systems lack Vitamins B¹, B², Iron and Niacin. HADACOL is so wonderful because HADACOL helps build up the hemoglobin content of your blood (when Iron is needed) to carry these great Vitamins and Minerals to every body organ—to every part of the body.

Give remarkable HADACOL a chance and if you don't feel better with the first few bottles you take —you get your money back. Only $1.25 for Trial Size; Large Family or Hospital Size, $3.50. If your druggist does not have HADACOL, order it direct from The LeBlanc Corporation, Lafayette, Louisiana.

RAYMOND PERRY

Raymond Perry With Sixth Fleet; To Spend Christmas In Italy

Raymond Perry, Airman, USN son of Mrs. Lois Pressley, member of the Staff of Nurses at the Newton Memorial Hosptal, is a crew member of the Aircraft Carrier USS Coral Sea and at present is on duty with the fleet in the Mediterranean where the fleet is constantly on the move, protecting U. S. interests in that area.

Mrs. Pressley recently received a letter from her son stating that her son's ship was docked in France and that he would spend Christmas and New Year's in Italy as they leave for that country within a short time.

Airman Perry volunteered for service in the Air Corps in 1947 and after completion of one year's service, re-enlisted in the Navy and has been with units of the Sixth Fleet since his re-enlistment.

The Sixth Fleet is under operational control of Admiral Richard L. Connolly, Commander in Chief, U. S. Naval Forces, Eastern and Mediterranean.

Airman Perry said he likes the Navy better than the Air Corps and traveling from country to country has been quite an experience for him and very educational.

Mrs. Frank Griffin is ill and will be confined to Newton Memorial Hospital for several days.

RED BATTALIONS CAUGHT IN OWN SNARE IN GORGE

SEOUL, Korea, Saturday, Nov. 18—A U. S. tank column smashed a Red trap in frigid northeast Korea Friday and roared northward in a bid to reach the Manchurian border in three or four days.

On other fronts, Allied patrols probed forward two to three miles against little or no opposition.

Behind the front war flared in central Korea. Thirty Red guerillas set Kapyong on fire and put its 8,000 civilians to flight in chilly weather. Three hours later, reinforced South Korean police drove the raiders out of town 32 miles northeast of Seoul.

In the northeast, scene of Friday's principal action, two battalions of Communist troops tried to trap a column of tanks and infantry from the U. S. 7th Division. The site was a narrow gorge six miles southwest of Kapsan, which is 21 miles south of the Yalu River border between Manchuria and Korea.

The Americans killed 128 of the machine-gunning Reds in a three-hour battle and sent the rest fleeing. Whether the Reds were Chinese or Koreans was not clear. The Americans suffered some dead and wounded.

Col. Harbert B. Powell, commander of the 17th Regimental, which made the advance, told Correspondent Tom Stone he expected to reach the Manchurian frontier in "three or four days."

"We plan to go to the Yalu River then pull back and entrench," he said. "My orders are indefinite.

"But if they fire across the river at us we'll shoot hell out of them."

American fighter and bomber pilots said Kapsan, the doughboy's' immediate objective, was gutted and still burning from two days of air attacks.

The fliers reported no sign of life in the streets. Kapsan was once a marshaling center for Red troops.

On the extreme northeast front, the South Korean Capital Division moved ahead two and one-half miles to about five miles north of Myongchon. The division had been stalled for two days by heavy Red counteratacks that threatened its flank.

U. S. warplanes, artillery and naval gunfire helped the Republican division get rolling again.

A U. S. 10th Corps spokesman said "the tide has definitely turned" for the Capital Division.

American Marines probed mountains around the Changjin reservoir in north-central Korea. They reported they killed 75 Chinese Communists in a clash Thursday in the mountains to the west.
